WHITING AT SOUTH CHURCH

Popular Writer for the Boston Herald Speaks Before Large Audience on Who's Who in Washington

The large audience which filled the South Church vestry felt amply repaid for waiting three-quarters of an hour past the appointed time for the appearance of Edward E. Whiting of The Boston Herald, writer, lecturer and entertainer, who spoke on Tuesday evening, under the auspices of the A. P. C. Sorority.

It had been announced that Mr. Whiting would tell "Who's Who in Washington" and among those whom he briefly characterized were Thomas Jefferson one of the best dressed men in Washington, a big man "outside measure", not a senator, but a comedian, an entertainer, an artist as a teller of stories about homely life; Tom Carraway, a master of satire, which has won him no popularity; Pat Harrison of Mississippi, who has many friends in the Republican party as well as his own; Frazier, Dr. Ladd and Brookhart, who are looked upon as "wild and woolly westerners" but were either born in the East or are scions of New England families; and Carter Glass who is a real statesman.

In alluding to the Senate investigations of the oil leases in which many accusations have been made and reputations ruined, and the scandal in the veterans bureau, he spoke of the departure of Mr. Daugherty whom no one wished to defend. Although Burton K. Wheeler is not popular, the speaker recommended his hearken to try to regard recent events on their merits rather than as a political move.

The result of Mr. Whiting's observations of men and affairs in Washington is that there is nothing to warrant a lack of faith in our Republic or our public men. The majority of both Republicans and Democrats are fine men. Instances of corruption naturally attract a great deal of attention and give rise to much unpleasant notoriety. The first instinct of man is trust and faith, and around that essential fact our government is built. The aspirations of our democracy are clean and good.

Vesper Services on Easter Sunday

One of the finest musical services enjoyed in recent years at the Free church was the cantata, "The New Life" by James H. Rogers given Sunday evening by the church choir, under the direction of Gerald F. Frazer, organist and choirmaster.

The cantata was not only musical but interesting and the work of both choir and soloists showed the result of the careful training of their leader. The choruses were all well sung with careful attention to expression, the final one, "Awake Thou that Sleepest" being without doubt the best. Two unaccompanied passages were very effective.

The cantata opened with a dramatic baritone solo, "God created Man to Be Immortal", finely rendered by George A. Christie. The most difficult part of the solo work was by Mrs. Alfred R. Harris who delighted her audience with her rendering of "When the Sabbath Was Past" and "God Hath Not Appointed us to Wrath." "Be not Afraid" was sung by J. William Crowe.

The cantata was in three parts and between the second and third parts, Rev. Arthur Wheelock spoke a few words on the Easter message.

The order of service:

Organ prelude—Jubilate Amen
Processional hymn, "Christ is Risen"
The Call to Worship
The Invocation and Lord's Prayer
The Assurance of Faith, 23rd psalm
The Gloria Patri
The Pastoral Prayer
Cantata—"The New Life"
The Prophecy

Baritone solo: God Created Man to Be Immortal
George A. Christie

Chorus: I Will Praise Thee, O Lord

The Fulfillment

Chorus: Christ, Our Passover is Sacrificed for Us

Soprano solo: When the Sabbath Was Past

Mrs. Alfred R. Harris

Tenor solo: And He Said Unto Them Be Not Afraid

J. William Crowe

Chorus: Alleluia

Brief interpretation by Rev. Arthur S. Wheelock

The Promise:

Soprano solo: God Hath Not Appointed Us to Wrath

Mrs. Harris

Chorus: Awake! Thou That Sleepest

At the South church at five o'clock an Easter concert was given by members of the church school. "The Pageant of the Resurrection" was given by members of Miss Kuhn's class.

In the afternoon at Christ church a service of carols and hymns was held under the direction of Miss Edith Humphreys and at this time the mite boxes were presented and Easter plants were given out. On Saturday afternoon in this church also there was the annual baptism of children.

An Easter sermon was preached Sunday evening at the Baptist church and the rite of baptism was administered. The anthem by the choir was "Thanks be to God."

Easter Concert at Baptist Church

The Easter Sunday-school concert at the Baptist church was very well attended by eager listeners. Prayer was offered by the pastor, voicing the plea that all might speak and sing for Christ. A long line of young boys read the Easter scripture, and the dear tiny tots of the primary department brought sweetness and joy of the springtime with their recitations, and song, "Tis Easter Day."

Mr. Gilbert was glad to welcome three new babies to the cradle-roll by sending them certificates of membership. He gave the result of the attendance contest carried on through the season with all the Merrimack Valley Sunday Schools. This school stands the eighth in a long list.

The wonderful meaning of Easter Day, its beauty, joy and triumph were clearly told by reading and recitation, song and hymn, given by the little people and the older ones.

Presented with Gold Pieces

The eighty-second birthday of William Caldwell, one of the most interested workers at the Baptist church, was recognized by the church societies on Monday evening when he was presented with ten gold pieces and a birthday cake. Miss Wiley made the presentation in behalf of the Philanthropic and Colver J. Stone in behalf of the Men's Brotherhood.

Two young Philanthropes, Evelyn Mason and Donald Lundgren who were also celebrating their birthdays, each received a potted plant.

The affair was held in connection with the apron social of the Philanthropic class. Each member received an apron and in its pocket deposited pennies equal in number to the inches of his or her waist measure. A goodly sum was realized. There was community singing, readings by Perley F. Gilbert and games. Refreshments were served by a committee of which Mrs. George Dufton was general chairman.

Phyllis Yates and Susan Ripley rendered the Entr' act music. Miss Bertha Grimes, formerly of the Faculty was one of the stars in the amateur presentation of "Green Stockings" in Lawrence last week.

The Vassar members of the Faculty gave a cabaret in Davis hall on Wednesday afternoon which netted a substantial sum for the Vassar fund.

Good Friday Service

Christ church was filled with worshippers from all the churches in town at the annual Good Friday service held in Christ church last Friday evening.

The order of service was carried out according to the Episcopal ritual, and the sermon was preached by Rev. Angus Dun of the Episcopal Theological school of Boston.

He took for his text "The Cross," and told of its symbolism at this time. He referred to the Cross not as an instrument of physical torture and pain, but as the bodily structure of Christ, with its approach to God and its outreach to fellowmen. While these two teachings out cause exquisite pain of soul even as the cross of wood tortured Christ's body, the inner life is not complete without the two. He said that there are some that reach up to God only and become so aloof and high minded that they have no concern for their fellow men; there are others who would reach out to others but not up to God, and lower their own spiritual nature.

Mr. Whiting believes in parties and partisanship—not a partisanship which accords a wholesale approval to everybody and everything in his own party, together with an intolerant attitude toward everything and everybody in the opposing party, but rather a partisanship which consists in a belief in the professed principles of his own party, and a faith that its personnel is made up of the men best equipped to carry on the work of that party.

There are many things in Congress which are to be deplored, but it is not incompetent nor has it become a by-word. The House of Representatives is a gathering of men who represent their neighborhood, called a congressional district. These men are not necessarily statesmen. The test of a man's fitness to be a Representative is that he actually represents the men of his own district, that his state of mind is their state of mind, his thoughts their thoughts, his vision their vision. If all the men in the House were the calibre of Coolidge, Taft and Roosevelt, our government would be an oligarchy and not a democracy.

Mr. Whiting tells a story superlatively well and he told a lot of them Tuesday evening, even his more serious remarks being colored with his characteristic humor.

In closing, he told several personal anecdotes of President Coolidge. Although Mr. Coolidge is not athletic, he is wiry and has a good constitution and his friends and admirers have no cause to worry for fear he will break down under the burden which he is carrying. He himself said that as the Governor of Massachusetts, he worked all the time, and as President of the United States he could do no more. He has a prodigious capacity for work and an everlasting power to stick at things and so accomplishes what to another man might be the impossible.

Previous to Mr. Whiting's arrival, Mr. Bigelow told a few incidents of his recent trip to the Holy Land and J. Everett Collins sang two selections.

Music Department Entertains

The program presented annually by the Music Department for the entertainment of the members of the November club and their friends is always a red-letter day in the club calendar, and Monday's recital was enjoyed by the largest audience which has assembled in the clubhouse this season.

The club has always numbered among its members musicians of real ability and this year the music department has been fortunate indeed in making valuable additions to its membership.

The program was made up from the compositions of Mozart, Brahms and Franz which have been the subject of study during the winter.

Mrs. J. J. Mahoney varied her group of songs as arranged on the program by the substitution of "The Vain Suit" by Brahms, her delightful interpretation of which was warmly received.

The trio composed of Mrs. Joseph N. Ashton, violin; Miss Helen Eaton, cello, and Mrs. Frank Paige, piano, which always makes a rich contribution to the program was heard in a Trio in C Minor by Brahms.

The brilliant rendering of a Brahms group by Miss Kate Friskin was the climax to a really excellent program.

The program was as follows:

Overture—Don Juan (arr. by F. Beyer) Mozart
Miss Abbott and Mrs. Thompson
Vocal Duet—The Gipsies (arr. by P. Viardot) Brahms
Mrs. Moore and Miss Carter
Mrs. Fraser at the piano
Allegretto Gracioso, from piano concerto op. 83 Brahms

Next Christian Endeavor Convention to Be Held in Andover

At the annual Essex County Convention of Christian Endeavor members held in Amesbury, on Saturday, the executive committee of the convention decided to hold the annual meeting in Andover next year.

The convention was attended by over a thousand members from all the societies of Essex county. The local C. E. societies were represented by thirty-five of the members in attendance. An interesting program was given and reports of the various societies were read at the meeting.

President James Carter of the Andover C. E. union read the annual report which showed that all the local societies have increased in membership during the past year.

Three Carillon Recitals

The three carillon recitals given Sunday, Monday and Tuesday by M. Anton Brees, carillonneur of Antwerp cathedral, one of the ablest bell-ringers of Europe, was a revelation of the musical possibilities of the bells in the Fuller Memorial tower. In spite of the unfavorable weather a large number of persons on foot and in automobiles assembled on each occasion.

To Americans not familiar with the bell-ringing of the low-lands in Europe, carillon playing is an entirely new art, and it is to be hoped one that will soon become more and more familiar. With the exception of a very small amount of so-called change ringing, America has been accustomed only to the loud, blatant, often almost vulgar chiming, the playing of simple melodies, one note at a time, on some eleven bells comprising a diatonic scale with a few semitones for purposes of simple modulation.

The carillon, on the other hand consists of from twenty-five to fifty bells tuned chromatically, with a number of the larger bells duplicated with a regular pedal-board. The clavier, consisting of levers which are repressed with the half-clenched fist, as well as with the extended fingers, affords opportunity for rapid scale passages, arpeggios, chords—M. Brees plays as many as ten bells at once—and especially, what constitutes the characteristic of carillon playing, and what gives it that magic charm when the entire tower sounds suddenly like a celestial music-box, the trilling and tremoloing in seconds, thirds, fourths, fifths and sixths. Such tremoloing requires great speed and Herculean strength, as the lever is struck a firm blow from the elbow. To the neophyte it is astounding to hear an expert carillonneur continue a composition of from twenty to thirty minutes with incessant tremoloing. The shading also which can be obtained from such carillon playing is quite marvelous, ranging from the strong fortes of the large bells to the almost inaudible pianissimos of the smallest ones.

Of M. Brees particular skill it is needless to speak. It is understood he has been engaged by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., to play the new carillon which is being installed in the Park Avenue Baptist Church, New York City and that he will assume his duties there a year from this coming summer upon the completion of the carillon.

At the present time there are but four carillons in America; Gloucester, Andover, Birmingham, Ala., and Morristown, N. J.

Police Court Notes

A campaign against petting parties in West Parish cemetery has been opened by Chief of Police Frank M. Smith. Automobiles are no respecters of consecrated ground and have not hesitated to drive at an excessive rate of speed, to park without lights, or even to drive boldly across the lots.

During the past week, two such offenders have appeared in police court. Charles J. Owens of 15 Oliver avenue of Lawrence was fined $10 for parking without lights and Richard S. Goodhall $10 for overspeeding within the sacred precincts.

Other cases were those of Thomas S. Ram of 2 Angelo place, Boston, who settled for $30 with Thomas O'Brien of Lawrence, for damages done his automobile in a collision which took place in January; William Newcomb of Pearson street, who was sentenced to ten days in the House of Correction because of drunkenness; and Paul Lamonica of North Andover, who was sentenced to ten days in the House of Correction for driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, and fined $25 for operating a motor vehicle without a license.

"We Believe in Calvin Coolidge"

Next Tuesday, the citizens of Massachusetts will be called to the polls to register their votes for delegates to the two great party conventions. Presidential primaries are a comparatively new idea in this state. A few years ago, only five or six states nominated their party representatives in this manner. Today, almost the whole Union follows the same or a similar plan.

The plan as we now have it, places directly on the people the opportunity to elect their representatives to the party convention which will nominate a candidate for the elections in the fall, rather than leaving that election to a state convention of party men. The Democrats will have an opportunity to vote for eight delegates at large out of a possible nine appearing on the ballot, the same number of alternates, and two district delegates and their alternates. None of these delegates have pledged themselves to support any one particular candidate for the Democratic nomination. They will, if elected, attend their convention and vote as they think will be for the best interests of the party and of Massachusetts.

Those who will vote a Republican ballot, and under the system in use in Massachusetts a voter must publicly declare his party affiliation before voting, have a very clear-cut duty presented to them. Seven delegates at large and their alternates and two delegates and their alternates from each Congressional district will go from Massachusetts to the convention at Chicago, solidly pledged to support Calvin Coolidge for the Presidential candidate of the Republican party.

Because Massachusetts is the President's own state, the eyes of the entire country will be watching the results of the elections on Tuesday. Not that there is any doubt of the result. They will ask only one question, "Do the Republicans of Massachusetts believe in Calvin Coolidge?" The country will find the answer to that question in the support which these delegates receive on Tuesday. We in Massachusetts know the answer. We know that Calvin Coolidge, in his quiet way, can give our country what it most needs at this time, a firm hand on the wheel. Our vote on Tuesday is our opportunity to broadcast this belief to the whole country in definite terms.

The chairman of the Coolidge campaign committee has already announced that there is no doubt of the nomination of Coolidge as the candidate of the Republican party. Presumably, this is true, but that announcement in no way relieves the Republican voters of the state of their duty to attend the polls on Tuesday and register their unqualified support of Massachusetts' candidate. A large vote on Tuesday will show the country in a very positive manner what Massachusetts thinks of her son. A small vote may not change the final result, but it may give the members of the party outside the state, something to think about.

The Townsman believes that the Republicans of Andover will not shirk the duty which has been presented to them, that they will join with the rest of the state in casting a vote which will say to the rest of the nation, "We believe in Calvin Coolidge."

Cinder

The Townsman joins with the people of Andover in expressing its sympathy to the families of Nathaniel E. Bartlett and Edgar G. Holt in their recent bereavement.

Minstrelsy Specialties at Opening of Fraternal Building

The formal opening of the new Fraternal Building will take place this night with an entertainment given by the Clan Johnston minstrels under the combined direction of William Walker pianist and P. C. Alfred Robb, end-man.

There are several features on the program and many surprises in store. One of the hits of the evening will be "Reveries" by George Fyffe who has on several occasions "brought down the house." The song is written especially for the show by Alfred Robb with music by William Walker.

Another specialty will be the song and dance "My Sweet Sarah Jane" by Eddie Fearn assisted by Jack Garden and Ed Thorburn. This is a clever trio of singers and dancers who have already made a name for themselves in the city.

The Military band of the Clan will introduce the performers in a specialty entirely original and surprising.

After the entertainment refreshments will be served under the direction of Mrs. George J. York of the Pythian Sisters, Mrs. Samuel K. Harris of the Clan Auxiliary and Mrs. Edwin S. Valentine of the Rebekahs, directresses of the Fraternal Association.

Tuesday Club Elects Officers

The annual meeting of the Tuesday Club was held April 15, at the home of Mrs. F. H. Foster on Central street. The annual reports were read and plans formulated for the coming year.

Most interesting was the report that the Club's ward is graduating this year from the Grammar school at Good Will Home. There she is having a very unusual training, mentally, morally and physically. Though but thirteen years of age she has made her own graduation dress, a proof that she is surely fitted for a useful life. Through the profits derived each year from its fall rummage sale the club plans to continue her education until she has completed the high school course.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Miss C. Madeleine Hewes; vice president, Mrs. Henry A. Bodwell; secretary, Mrs. Ernest T. Hethrington; treasurer, Mrs. Frank H. Brigham.

Obituaries

NATHANIEL E. BARTLETT

Nathaniel Edward Bartlett, long identified with the book business in Cornhill, Boston, where his firm, N. J. Bartlett & Co., is located at 37 Cornhill, died Wednesday morning at his home 59 Central street, the same house in which he was born, July 27, 1866. Mr. Bartlett with his wife went abroad January 10, having planned a trip to London and the Riviera. In the English capital, Mr. Bartlett was taken ill with influenza and a fortnight ago he returned home.

Mr. Bartlett was the son of the late Nathaniel Jabez Bartlett and Ellen Maria (Higgins) Bartlett. He prepared for college at Phillips Academy, from which he was graduated in the class of '84, and entering Harvard he finished at the university in '88. In November, 1894, he married Anne Ward Foote of Peabody. Beside his wife he is survived by five children, Mrs. Frederick A. Jencks of Boston, Mrs. David H. Atwater of Fall River, Miss May Osgood Bartlett, Miss Sarah Poole Bartlett, Miss Nathalie Bartlett and John Bartlett. Of Andover and sister, Mrs. Arthur G. Walton of Wakefield.

Mr. Bartlett had been in the book business for thirty years and dealt largely in early editions, as well as in general literature. The concern, which was established by his father, was long located at 28 Cornhill, but four years ago it was moved to number 37 on the same street.

Funeral services conducted by the Rev. C. W. Henry will be held at the late home Saturday afternoon at half past two. Burial will be in the South Church cemetery.

EDGAR G. HOLT

Edgar G. Holt, of 43 Abbot street, president and treasurer of the Lawrence Ice company, passed away suddenly early Saturday evening as the result of an attack of apoplexy while at work in his office on Water street, Lawrence. A few minutes previous he was in apparently sound health and had been talking over some business affairs with his auditor. Suddenly he collapsed into a chair and died before medical aid could be summoned.

Mr. Holt, who was one of the best known and best liked of Lawrence business men, was born in Lawrence on July 2, 1874 and had spent the greater part of his life in that city. He was the son of the late Louis G. Holt, former postmaster and license commissioner. Educated in Lawrence public schools he attended Phillips Andover and after his graduation entered Harvard and Princeton, receiving his diploma at the latter institution. During his school and college days his strength and speed combined to make him one of the greatest of college gridiron stars and when his athletic career had ended he received flattering offers from various colleges to serve as coach. For three years he assisted in coaching Princeton and since then has assisted the head coach in preparing the athletes for crucial contests.

He assumed the captaincy of Company L on April 13, 1904 and acted as head of that unit for six years. He was also prominent in political life, having served in the state legislature as representative from Methuen and Wards 1 and 2 of Lawrence in 1908-1909. He entered the ice business shortly after his graduation from Princeton and assumed entire control of the Lawrence Ice company three years ago. For many years he resided in Methuen but for the past few years had made his home in Andover. He was married in 1898 to Hannah C. Greene of Bennington, Vermont, who survives him. He also leaves two daughters, Jane and Emily and a brother, Louis A. Holt.

During the World War he held the rank of Major in the second battalion, 16th regiment, Massachusetts State Guard. He organized and was captain of Co. H. of Andover, of the same regiment and so attached were the members to their first captain that the company was named "Holt's Own." He was chairman of the Home Guard committee of Andover's Committee of Public Safety during the war. He was a member of John Hancock lodge of Masons of Methuen and Lawrence lodge of Elks. He was also a prominent member of the Merrimack Valley Country club and for many years had been an enthusiastic golfer. During the past winter he was among the members forming plans for the purchase of the Orchard Hill company's holdings.

Funeral services, conducted by Rev. Charles H. Oliphant of the First Congregational church, Methuen, were held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the late home, 43 Abbot street. Burial was in the family lot in the Old South cemetery.

The bearers were Joseph Lacourse, Michael A. Sullivan, Randolph Holt, Peter F. Graham and Sumner Orr.

Delegations were in attendance at the funeral services from John Hancock lodge of Masons of Methuen, Lawrence lodge of Elks and the Merrimack Valley Country club.

She leaves four brothers, John, Charles, Raymond and Donald Buchan; four sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Legro of Danvers, Mrs. Nellie Smith of Lawrence and Misses Anne and Gertrude Buchan of Andover.

EDITORIAL

The following is a news dispatch from the daily press:

"When Oklahoma places a tax on gasoline to build highways and then tries to collect from aviators, good nature reaches its limit, according to the heads of an aviation company, who plan to form a State-wide organization to protest the payment of such taxes by aviators."

"The legislature raised the retail sale tax on gasoline from 1 cent a gallon to 21-2. The aviators point out that they derive no benefit from the roads and do not help wear them out."

With all due respect to the airplane company and the aviators, it is suggested that this is about as short-sighted and narrow a policy as a business house engaged in the building and marketing of airplanes could well formulate!

What guides the aviator in unfamiliar surroundings? The roads! What roads are visible at great heights? Narrow, unimproved roads. When an aviator has to descend at a flying field, what does he need most? Transportation to food and lodging, in a motor car, over good roads! When an aviator has to make a forced landing, where does he go for help, a telephone? To the nearest farmhouse, which is located on the nearest good road!

These are the special interests which the good road has for the aviator and the airplane builder. But both have even larger interests in the general benefit of good roads. For both depend on the prosperity of the country for their prosperity, which increases with every increase in transportation and decreases with every setback of transportation.

When the trolley car was first invented, the steam roads fought it, as a competitor. Now they run it, in interurban service, because the more people travel the more they want to travel. When the good road and the auto truck first began to carry freight, the railroads fought them, as competitors. Now railroads run trucks for short-haul freight and help good roads, because the more people travel the more they want to travel. The airplane user and maker begin as did the railroads; they must end, as the railroads have ended, helping the good road, because the good road will help the airplane maker and user.

ATLANTIC YELLOWSTONE PACIFIC HIGHWAY ASSOCIATION FORMED

To promote the construction of a new east and west route to be known as the Atlantic Yellowstone Pacific Highway is the object of a recently incorporated association of that name.

The association sets forth that there are two transcontinental roads through Chicago, west. The more northern is the Yellowstone Trail, extending from Chicago to Milwaukee, through the Twin Cities and northwest to Seattle. The other is the Lincoln Highway, extending from Chicago southwest to Omaha, through Cheyenne and on to San Francisco and Los Angeles. Where these cross the Missouri River they are over four hundred miles apart. This leaves ample room for another such highway.

According to its advocates, the new route will have several distinct advantages over either of the others:

First. It traverses a section whose physical characteristics are more pleasing and inviting.

Second. It will be cooler and not so dusty as the others.

Third. It will permit earlier spring travel and later fall travel than the others.

Fourth. It will show a greater variety of agriculture and industries than either of the others named.

The selecting of the route, and the marking, with certain advertising, is to be accomplished early this summer from Sioux Falls to the Mississippi River and probably to Chicago.

The route will extend from the Atlantic through Chicago, the great trade center of the continent; through Sioux Falls, whose public-spirited citizens are financing its beginning; to the Black Hills, the outstanding resort east of the Rockies; by Yellowstone Park, the Nation's greatest playground, to the Pacific.

PRODUCER-TO-CONSUMER AREA INCREASED BY GOOD ROADS

Statistics of the use of good roads by farmers for direct marketing to consumers show the great advantages hard roads possess for the man who makes his living directly from the soil. It has been shown that the longest dairy route profitable over a good road is 15 miles for the round trip, while over a hard road the dairy farmer can operate profitably with a total length of 40 miles. This applies to every truck farmer, poultry raiser, and farmers in general with produce to sell direct to the consumer. Moreover, the 15-mile trip over an earth road is only practicable part of the year, while the 40-mile route over the hard road is good all the time, regardless of the season.

With hard roads, all country producers of foodstuffs can make profitable daily trips to the city and back from a distance of 20 miles, creating a producer-to-consumer area with a radius of 20 miles around every city. Not only the farmer connected with a direct market, but he who is connected by a hard road with a railroad shipping point, reaps steady profit from good highways. In many States it has often happened that fruit has been allowed to rot and fertile fields have gone uncultivated because impassable roads have made profitable sales out of the question. Good roads mean steady profits and constant demand for farm products at good prices.

The bowling of the Meat Cutters was excellent, Westcott, Stickney and Kinnear hitting the pins for 300 or better. Webster was high man with 310 but received little support from his team mates.

Following the match, the members of both teams enjoyed a turkey supper.

Ladies' Benevolent Society Meets at Baptist Church

While the Ladies' Benevolent society of the Baptist church were busily sewing on pretty aprons last week Thursday, the president of the Ladies' Mission Circle, a stranger, and a few others came in. The smiling stranger was introduced as Mrs. Briggs, the speaker of the afternoon. Having been a missionary in Japan for twenty-six years, she felt qualified to tell of the work, and of her own people, as she intimately called the Japanese.

In a bright earnest manner she gave her audience some idea of the work. She first quoted the remark of a Japanese lady (many said the same to her), "When you go to the churches in America won't you please tell them a great big 'thank you' for what they have done for us the past few months." Our vessels were the first ones to come to the aid of Japan after the earthquake, and Americans gave so generously. A great deal of work has been done to help the people to get on their feet after being burned out. In Christian churches, numbers were housed, fifty families at a time in the Tabernacle. As the Mable Memorial School was absolutely destroyed, the five or six hundred boys were taken into the girls' school in the afternoon. Great spiritual blessing is coming out of the fire, for many young people are giving their hearts to God.

In Japan, girls are all eager for education to fit them to fill their place in the world. School buildings need to be enlarged, and if people could see the bright, wide-awake young people longing for education, more generous support would be given the work. The girls do a tremendous work among their own people in bringing them to Christ, helping the sick ones, reaching the mothers through kindergarten children, tactfully working everywhere.

Dainty refreshments were served by the Benevolent Society, and all enjoyed a social hour.

Deputy's Final Visit

The last visit in her capacity as district president of the Rebekah lodges in this district was paid by Mrs. Ethel V. Whitney of Lowell, Monday evening to Indian Ridge Rebekah lodge at its meeting held in the Fraternal building.

Mrs. Whitney was accompanied by deputy grand marshal, Maude Plumstead and deputy grand warden, Mrs. Hughes of Lowell, and the district instructor, Basha M. Buxton of Haverhill.

Two candidates were initiated and the degree work was excellently done by the degree team, which was complimented on its work by the visiting deputies.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by the entertainment committee.

Paint the Cheeks from the Inside

Can your complexion withstand the April showers? Women have a perfect right to use harmless cosmetics, if they improve their looks. The best effect, however, and the most permanent, can be produced by painting the cheeks from the inside.

A good complexion is one of the indications of good health, and one of the results of regular health habits. Plenty of sleep, proper food, and daily bathing help the complexion immensely. A diet including milk, green vegetables, coarse breads and cereals, and plenty of water is excellent. Fried foods and an excess of sweets should be cut out.

Some people naturally have much higher color than others, yet everyone can improve his color by exercise every day out of doors. This puts the blood in better circulation, and some of it is bound to stray into the cheeks, and forget to go back.

Just one word on cosmetics. Many are not only harmful because they clog the pores and enlarge them, but some are actually poisonous.

What Marks the Ordinary Person from the Distinctive?

In conversation one is given to general sweeping statements; the other to the finer details and distinctions. That is why we enrich our work with detailed perfection.

"THREE WISE FOOLS"

The part of Gordon Schuyler, the rich young man who has the boldness to assert himself in the face of his domineering uncle, but who resigns himself to the routine of a business career when he becomes the victim of love at first sight, and whose mental acumen is the means of unriddling the mystery which seems to be destroying the happiness of his sweetheart, was spiritedly played by Norman Wiggin.

To John MacDonald, already well-known in Andover amateur theatricals, fell the task of playing the desperate criminal just escaped from jail, who is softened by remorse, and at last confesses that he is a forger in an attempt to make restitution to those whom he has wronged for years, a part which he played with fine restraint. John Crawshaw, the victim of his forgery, was impersonated by Henry Wade.

Anti-Mosquito Association of Massachusetts

In the past man has fought mosquitoes single handed and by such defensive methods as the use of screens and citronella. He has tried to keep them indoors, giving the S. O. S. signal, — that is, "screen or suffer". Science has taught us that by combined efforts and by offensive methods the fight against the mosquito nuisance can be won. The new signal is to be O. S. O., which means "organized scientific offensive."

By the S. O. S. method mosquitoes were allowed to breed, after which everybody had to defend himself as best he could by slapping, flogging, screening, scratching, anointing, the result being great cost, misery, and damage to health. By the O. S. O. method mosquitoes will not be allowed to breed. By draining swamps, getting rid of standing water, by oiling water which cannot be drained, and stocking with fish, waters which cannot be oiled, the mosquito larvae will be destroyed.

Organization is necessary. If one locality gets rid of standing water and a neighboring locality does not, both will suffer. Systematic work is required from April to October inclusive. Definite areas for suppressive work should be established and responsibility for each area assigned to someone. The work may be done by voluntary workers or by paid workers. The work itself is simple; organization is the secret of success.

Scientific control of the mosquito suppression work is necessary. There are half a dozen common species of mosquito and a dozen or two other less common species found in Massachusetts. Different species have different breeding habits. Some breed in salt marshes; others in fresh water swamps; others in small receptacles around the house. All, however, breed in water and nowhere else. There are different kinds of oil suitable for different places. If oiling is to be done economically, the proper kind and amount of oil is an important item.

Offensive methods have proved better than defensive methods, — an old military maxim. Preventive medicine is the modern way of controlling disease. The western cow-boy said, "I always shoot first, it's cheaper." It is easier to kill a hundred mosquito larvae by brushing the water out of a puddle in a street gutter or by oiling a catch-basin than it is to kill a hundred mosquitoes after the larvae have become mosquitoes on the wing. Aeroplanes are hard to hit.

Organization is a matter for each local community. Every city and town should have an Anti-Mosquito committee.

Scientific advice as to methods of mosquito suppression will be furnished by the Anti-Mosquito Association. Address the Secretary, J. Albert C. Nyhen, Court House, Brookline, Mass., or the President, Professor George C. Whipple, Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass.

Offensive mosquito campaigns are not unreasonable in cost. Cambridge spent last year about 6 cents per capita. Providence, R. I., about 15 cents, and Brookline, Mass., about 25 cents (for flies and mosquitoes), — all with successful results. It is wisest to begin with small expenditures, but important to keep them up year after year.

ARLINGTON MILLS LOSE

Shawsheen Wins in Second Round for Wallace Cup by a Score of Three Goals to Two

Before approximately 1,000 spectators that wended their way to the Arlington Mills ground, Saturday, Shawsheen and Arlington Mills battled for two hours in the second round of the George M. Wallace Cup in one of the best fought contests of the season, Shawsheen finally pulling out a winner by three goals to two.

Shawsheen won the toss and decided to play with the slope and wind at their backs, but it was soon evident that this was no advantage as the wind carried the ball too fast and made it hard to control.

Nelson kicked off and Parker put Quinn in possession but the winger put the ball past for a goal kick. Then followed one of the best plays of the game. Churchley put the ball to Neilson who tricked Thomson and swung the ball out to Mitchell; the latter headed the ball past Watson and was able to put the ball across for the center to easily lob the ball over Goalkeeper Murdoch's head and score the first goal of the game with the Shawsheen defense asleep, the only one it was caught napping during the whole game.

Whitehead was easily dispossessing Quinn of the ball and his powerful kicks were a big asset to Shawsheen, compared with the weak clearing of Mills and Watson. Cox was next seen to shoot high over the bar.

From a free kick, Arlington conceded a corner which was dropped into the goal by Bushnell, and Torrence put the ball over the bar for another corner kick which was put behind.

Cox pulled up for offside after good play by Parker and Quinn. A foul against Patterson for tripping was placed well by Walker and Corigan headed over the bar. Watson put the ball over to Currie and eventually Wilson was wide when given a real chance by Smith. Up to this time Arlington had had most of the game, but poor finishing was in evidence, Quinn in particular being at fault.

It was evident that Shawsheen would not score this period and the whistle sounded for half-time with Arlington attacking and holding the lead by one goal to none.

Corigan restarted and Currie was prominent with some good footwork but Parker cleared. Shawsheen continued to attack and again Currie was in the picture and after drawing the defence he put the ball out to Bushnell who shot from the wing and the ball seemed to curl away from Torrence into the net, thus equalizing the scores.

In the restart, Churchley swung the ball out to Mitchell and the latter tested Murdoch for the first time in his half with a hot shot, but the goalie cleverly cleared.

The Shawsheen eleven were now playing better ball and having most of the game and only good work by Churchley, Smith and Patterson kept them out. Walker put forward to Corigan and his splendid burst looked dangerous until Torrence was seen to save from a hot drive and Mills conceded a corner. Another fine chance was given Arlington when Churchley put forward to Neilson, the center forward breaking through and with only Murdoch to beat he tried to sag the ball over the goal. Walker, head, but Murdoch was too clever this time and he outguessed him, much to the disgust of Parker who had an open goal. Shawsheen continued the attack but time was eventually called with the score one goal to each and it was decided to play two extra periods.

A fierce attack in which Torrence was prominent in saving a header from Smith and Currie resulted in Neilson, the Arlington center, deliberately fisting the ball out from a head by Corigan, which the goalie would easily have saved. Whitehead made no mistake in finding the net and Shawsheen took the lead after nine minutes' play. Arlington made desperate attempts to go through, but the end of the period found them still one goal behind.

Shawsheen put the game on ice in the first minute of the second overtime period when Thomson pushed the ball forward to Currie who tricked Mills and put the ball into the corner of the net, well out of the reach of Torrence. From now until the end of the period, Arlington attacked, and from a well-placed corner the ball glanced off Foss into the net and the score was Shawsheen 3, Arlington 2 and one minute to go.

Shawsheen held out and was the eventual winner of a good contest by three goals to two.

Spring Has Come

The slogan—every where—is "Clean up! Take stock!" This applies to streets, and back-yards, and attics, and windows, and household supplies. But what about the person? True, to some people spring means a dose of sulphur and molasses. This is the only special attention given the body during the year. The family Ford is gone over thoroughly several times at least; any mishap would be a matter of money.

Stop and think. Isn't it a matter of considerable money if the body breaks down with disease? The wise man consults the doctor regularly, just as he consults his dentist. Then if he is perfectly well, he has the satisfaction of knowing it; and if some trouble or disease is beginning, the doctor can correct it before the harm is done. Give your body as much consideration as you give your Ford; have a health examination this Spring!

Start the Day Right

What's the matter with breakfast? Starting the day without breakfast is like trying to run a Ford without gas. You can't go far. The Massachusetts Department of Public Health is starting a campaign for better breakfasts—so important for the girl or boy rushing to work or to school. Miss Lou Lombard, consultant in nutrition, considers a good breakfast a necessary factor for efficiency, good humor, and good health. "A good breakfast," she says, "will prevent mid-morning headache, faintness, and tired feeling. Build your breakfast with fruit, cereal (cooked preferable) with milk, dark bread and butter, and a glass of milk or a cup of cocoa. If you have no appetite, get rid of the tea and coffee habit, sleep with windows open, and go to bed in time to get eight hours sleep and yet get up in time to eat breakfast."

The department recommends breakfasts like these: Bakes apple, oatmeal and milk; prunes, cornmeal mush and milk; boiled rice and raisins, toast and butter, cocoa; orange, cracked wheat and milk, cocoa.

Clock Comparatively New

The modern clock is a comparatively new invention, and is credited to a German inventor, named Hendy de Viek. A. D. 1364. The fundamentals of De Viek's clock were identical with those of today, with the exception that he did not find out the use of the pendulum, but regulated his clock by means of balance wheels. Charles V of France was much interested in this new clock and commanded De Viek to come to Paris and install a clock in the large turret of his palace in Paris.

PASSION PLAYERS GUESTS

Famous Players of Oberammergau Guests at Home of E. M. Rickard in Shawsheen

The famous players, accompanied by their manager, Dr. Ruederer and Mrs. Lang, wife of the "Christus", were received by Mr. Rickard and his family shortly after one o'clock. Mr. Lang by his visit renews friendship with the family of Mr. Rickard, which was born of an acquaintance with Theodore Rickard, a son, who is now studying abroad and his two sisters, Misses Edwina and Antoinette Rickard.

Andover's Finance Committee

The resignation of George Abbot and E. V. French from the Finance Committee should not be allowed to take place without comment. Their fidelity, long service and self-sacrificing labors for the town and recognition and appreciation from the townspeople. No one who has been closely associated with these men on the Committee can fail to realize the time and labor freely given by them in services for the town. Why they retire from the Committee I do not know, yet I am not surprised at their action. More surprised am I that any of the Committee are longer willing to serve the town. I am sure they would not, did not a sense of duty outweigh their desire for appreciation. For when, as at our last town meeting, they witnessed the wholesale repudiation of their combined judgment, when the results of weeks of patient investigation into the needs of our various town departments are ignored or thrown upon the dump, when their elaborate published recommendations giving cogent reasons why certain items of expense asked for are rejected and others retained are treated as mere "scraps of paper"—in short, when their mature judgment is discredited in the light of the facts involved in the placed by the snap judgment of the uninformed crowd blindly ignorant of the town's financial condition and wholly indifferent to consequences—when they witness all this they must ask themselves: "Of what value is our labor?"

An individual or a committee can work without appreciation but not without results. These men do not claim infallibility nor do they expect their recommendations to be slavishly followed. They do expect, and have a right to expect, that their decision shall not be pre-judged nor set aside without preponderating reasons. When the chairman of this committee warns the tax-payers against overstepping our tax levy and urges that further expenditures be deferred till a later date, he has a right to expect such warning to be heeded. This right, however, was denied him at last town meeting by the majority of voters. They were in no mood to regard either facts or reasons hence the recommendations and arguments of the Finance Committee were brushed aside as negligible, and in place of these, the majority substituted predetermined purposes and realized these purposes by an appeal to feeling.

If allowed to function properly our Finance Committee can be of immense service to our town for it stands as a buffer between the overburdened tax-payer on the one hand and the pet schemes of the small tax-payers on the other; it winnows out the essential from the non-essential demands yearly made by our varied town departments; it lays before the voters authenticated facts gleaned by painstaking investigation; it proportionates expenses so that no one interest will absorb more than its due share of the town's money; in a word, it seeks the largest good of the largest number.

The men who compose this committee are business men, successful men, who keep in vital touch with every section of the town. The unanimous judgment of such men should have great weight. But when, instead, their combined recommendations are unheeded and their solemn warnings fall upon deaf ears, such men may well question the wisdom of further attempting to serve our community.

Let the people of Andover review the action of our last town meeting in the light of President Coolidge's last address. Precisely what he deprecates in the conduct of the nation was the outstanding characteristic of our town action. He says outside of the bonus, people are demanding money which, if voted by Congress, "would increase the expenditure of the Federal Government $3,600,000,000." To grant this "would mean nothing less than financial disaster to the nation."

I appeal to the business men of Andover by their presence and voice in our town meeting to stand squarely behind our Finance Committee. Unless they do this "financial disaster" is just as sure to overtake Andover as the night is to follow the day. "Faith in the American people means faith in their ability to form sound judgment when once the facts have been presented to them clearly and without prejudice." When sentimentality usurps the place of sound judgment as it did in our last town meeting the time has come for drastic action.
